

Jersey Pastor, Shot by Highwayman, Dies.
CAMDEN, N. J., April 26.—The Rev. Joseph T. M. Childrey, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Haddonfield, N. J., who was shot last night by a negro highwayman, died in a hospital here to-day.

WRINKLES DISAPPEAR SKIN SMOOTH

This is what women say who have treated their wrinkled, faded, tired looking skin with the marvelous Usit. This pure nut-oil skin food made from a formula brought from Egypt, where for centuries it has been used by that country's famous beauties, is positively guaranteed to banish wrinkles quickly, whether caused by advancing years or other reasons.

The results after a short treatment are particularly pleasing as well as surprising. Usit seems to contain just the elements necessary to nourish and feed the skin back to a healthy condition, and wrinkles are never to be seen on a perfectly healthy, well-nourished and cared for complexion. The pure nut-oils cannot harm the skin or cause the slightest hair growth. Thousands of grateful women can today testify to the wonderful things it has done for them. It is only necessary to rub it into the skin for a few moments each night before retiring to get the full benefit from its use. It is a clean, delicately scented liquid, not a greasy paste or cream—be sure to remember this when asking for it—and is always put up in bottles. All first class drug stores and department stores sell and recommend Usit. If your skin is dry, if wrinkles are beginning to appear, we would advise you to get some at once and begin its use without delay. You will find it a fine treatment as well for freckles, blackheads and many forms of eczema.—Advt.

WEST SIDE FIGHT BEGUN IN SENATE; TWO BILLS PUT IN

Lewis Measure Calls for Inquiry—Ottinger Asks Powe.
for P. S. Board.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
ALBANY, April 26.—The Green bill, providing for the investigation of the New York Central west side contract by a commission of seven, was introduced in the Senate to-day and advanced to third reading.

It was referred to the Finance Committee and Senator Burlingame made an effort to have the committee discharged at once. Upon the statement that the committee would have to provide for an appropriation to carry out the investigation Burlingame consented to letting it go to this committee.

Three elements now complicate the New York Central controversy:

1. A substitute for the Ottinger bill from the Public Service Commission.
2. The passage of the Green bill by the Assembly.
3. The attempts to get Gov. Whitman to take a hand in legislation on the subject.

Senator Ottinger this afternoon introduced his substitute bill and had it sent to the New York City Committee, with instructions to report it back forthwith as an amendment. He said that he would get action on the bill on the floor in three days. The new bill takes the calendar place of the old one and is therefore on the order of third reading.

By the bill the Public Service Commission is practically restored to the position it would have occupied without the Chapter 777 of the Acts of 1911. That is, it gets full and complete jurisdiction over the contract. It is further provided that the Commission shall, not may, if no agreement can be made with the New York Central by the end of this year, proceed to adopt such measures as will take the tracks of the road off grade crossings, substitute electricity for steam motive power, and generally rehabilitate the west side terminals in such plans as the Commission may make.

As a third, although rather vague, provision, the bill calls for "a readjustment of values" every twenty-five years on the franchises and rights given the road. This item was so indefinite that it can hardly be called a substitute for the Burlingame amendment, which prohibited any grant of land or franchise for more than fifty years. It is probable there will be a lively fight over this feature of the proposed act with a view to having it state clearly just what it is intended to do.

The actual status of the situation is this: The Senate has before it the Ottinger bill, providing for giving the Public Service Commission concurrent jurisdiction with the Board of Estimate and amended with the fifty-year holding strap. Mr. Ottinger is offering the new bill as a substitute.
